

Programme

Friday, 28th October 2022

9.00-9.15h Welcome Address

9.15-10.15h Andrzej M. Kaniowski (University of Lodz), TBA

10.15-11.15h Ewa Nowak (Adam Mickiewicz University of Poznan), Praktische Vernunft und Ökozid

11.15-11.30h Coffee break

11.30-12.30h Christoph Horn (University of Bonn), ‚Was bedeutet der ‚homo noumenon‘ bei Kant?‘

12.30-14.00h Lunch break

14.00-15.00h Wilfried Hinsch, ‚„Was soll ich tun?“ oder die Aufgaben der Moralphilosophie nach Kant‘

15.00-16.00h Lara Scaglia (University of Warsaw), ‚Reason and Bedürfnis‘

16.00-16.30h Coffee break

16.30-17.30h Reza Mosayebi (Ruhr-University Bochum), Kant’s Cosmopolitanism and Race Mixing

17.30-18.30h Corinna Mieth (Ruhr-University Bochum), Kant, migration and the cosmopolitan right not to be treated with hostility

19.00h Dinner

Saturday, 29th October 2022

9.00-10.00h Garrath Williams (Lancaster University), 'Right, coercion, and complicity'

10.00-10.30h Coffee break

10.30-11.30h Martin Sticker (University of Bristol), 'Kant on Being a Useful Member of the World and Universal Basic Income'

11.30-12.30h Ewa Wyřębska-Đermanović (University of Bonn), The Rightful Condition and the Realm of Ends. Kant For and Against Structural Injustice.