

XI. Internationales Doktorandenkolloquium (hybrid)

21. November 2025, Johannes-Gutenberg-Universität Mainz,
Kantstr. 2, 55122 Mainz, Raum SR 04

Programm:

8.45: Eröffnung

9.00: Yeong Jun Baek (Daegu): The Limit of Proof and the Limit of Linguistic in Schopenhauer's Philosophy (online)

9.45: Saumy Sirothia (New Delhi): From Blind Will to Conscious Energy. Toward a Pluriversal Metaphysics of Schopenhauer and Tantra (online)

10.30: Dr. Rémy Poëls (Nancy): Die Bedeutung des Bösen in Schopenhauers Philosophie: Eine säkularisierte Perspektive

11.15 Kaffeepause

11.30: Abhishek Tripathi (Rom): Self-Transcendence and Subjectivity: Reciprocal Illumination of Kant's Enthusiasm and Schopenhauer's Will

12.15: Dominic Kearney (Southampton): Monism and Motivation: Schopenhauer's Ontology of Intention

13.00 Mittagspause

15.00: Joseph Chapman (Cardiff): Nietzsche's Critical Reception of Schopenhauer's Account of Humanity's Metaphysical Need

15.45: Albert Yoo (Budapest): We Remember Death: Extending Schopenhauer on the Relationship between Death and Art

16.30: Larissa Medeiros (Rio de Janeiro): The "Character of a People" According to the Young Nietzsche (online)

17.15: Kaffeepause

17.30: Pete Heath (Tampa): Intuitive Cognition in Aesthetic Moral Education: Against a "Two Schopenhauers" View (online)

18.15: Juan Manuel Martínez García (Pereira): The Sublime Compassion: Imagination and Transcendence in Schopenhauer's Awareness (online)

19.00: Robert McKinley (Albuquerque): Schopenhauer and Schelling on the Irrationality of the Will (online)

Das Kolloquium ist für das Publikum offen

Dr. Walter und Dr. Gertrud
Pförtner-Stiftung